

TB Society's Christmas Seal Campaign Opens Here Today

Local Group
Seeks Quota
Set At $3,000

Today marks the opening of the 1952 Christmas Seal campaign by the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society. When the mailman comes this morning, nearly 7,300 county residents will find an envelope from the Society addressed personally to them.

On the inside of the envelope will be the usual letter, explaining the purpose of the Christmas Seal sale and a full sheet of this year's simply-designed seals.

The small, colorful seals have been designed by nationally-known artist Tom Darling who based his interpretation of the spirit and purpose of the TB societies on two of the world's oldest symbols.

The first of these is the traditional "double-barred cross" which, over a period of years, has become identified with the crusade against tuberculosis.

In addition to the cross, artist Darling has included a small, lighted candle in an old-fashioned holder. The candle is on the seal, the artist says, as a symbol of "the light which the TB society has brought into the lives of thousands of persons who might otherwise have been living in total darkness" without the assistance of medical aid or the all-important rest provided by TB hospitals and wards.

Mailing the seals out to Monroe county residents has been an all-community project with hundreds of volunteer workers spending hours of time in the local TB office.

The work was begun in early October when addresses were typed on the envelopes. Then came the job of folding the seals and placing them in the envelopes with the letter.

Among those who cooperated with the members of the TB group were the "Brownies" and Girl Scouts, Graduate Society workers, the woman's auxiliary of the American Legion, members of the International Typographical Union auxiliary and the Temple Israel Sisterhood.

In addition to the work they have done in preparation for the seal sale, Girl Scouts in Monroe county will have charge of the distribution of posters throughout the area, reminding residents that the sale is one of great importance to every inhabitant of the county. Several stores in the two Stroudsburg boroughs have announced plans for colorful window displays. With a goal of $3,000 set for the current year, TB Society workers urge all residents to buy the stamps they want and need and return the money just as soon as possible to the local office.

The purchase of Christmas seals is carried out on a completely voluntary basis. No solicitations are made at factories or places of business and the only contact the Society makes is through the mail.

Money received through the sale of Christmas seals is used to finance the work of the local TB clinic and to help offset the cost of maintaining the annual visit of the mobile X-ray unit which provides Monroe counties with chest X-rays to determine the presence of TB in individuals.

Will Be Head Of CIO Steel

Pittsburgh (AP) — David J. McDonald, known throughout the labor world as "Phil Murray's protégé," has taken over as head of the CIO United Steelworkers.

The 50-year-old Pittsburgher who had been associated with Murray 30 years was named acting president of the Steelworkers by the USW's 35-member executive board Saturday.

McDonald will serve until a president is named by the 1,100,000 members of the union in a rank and file election next Feb. 10. Meanwhile, he also will continue to serve as the union's secretary-treasurer.

Following his selection to fill in for the man who died unexpectedly a week ago, there appeared to be a strong feeling among board members that McDonald will be elected to a full four-year term.

As the directors ended their session, McDonald said he will support L. W. Abel of Canton, O., for USW secretary-treasurer. McDonald also announced that James G. Thimmes will continue as vice president of the USW and will be supported for a vice presidency in the CIO when the CIO holds its convention at Atlantic City Dec. 1. McDonald told newsmen he is "most humble" over his selection to succeed Murray, adding:

AEC Says Hydrogen Bomb Research Was Included In Eniwetok Weapons Testing

By Elton C. Fay
Washington (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission said last night that hydrogen bomb "research" was included in a new weapons test program at heavily-guarded Eniwetok atoll.

But a carefully phrased announcement did not admit that a full-scale "hell bomb" had been exploded.

Indeed, exhibiting alarm about widely circulated reports, it disclosed simultaneously that the crewmen of ships in the test task force who wrote home about seeing such a super-blast face the prospect of prosecution.

Chairman Gordon Dean told reporters investigations are under way, with possible prosecution under task force regulations "or the law." Presumably, his latter reference meant the strongest security provisions of the Atomic Energy Act. Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) of the joint Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, has said he wants to know if security was violated by the letter writers.

The formal AEC announcement saying the 1952 series of atomic weapons tests had been concluded went no further on the subject of the hydrogen bomb than to say "the test program included experiments contribution to thermonuclear weapons research." That is the scientists' way of designating a hydrogen bomb. Dean said officials in charge of the test series "expressed satisfaction with the results."

Letters began arriving in the United States over a week ago from persons at Eniwetok who said they had witnessed history's first hydrogen bomb blast.

A study of the letters indicated that the writers were describing something of far greater fury and power than previously known atomic explosions. If the letter of heavy hydrogen—one of the supposed "super" ingredients required in a hydrogen bomb explosion.

—actually saw what they described, the weapon obviously lived up to its unofficial billing of a "hell bomb."

One man thought the unearthly explosion caused a mile-wide island to disappear.

Chicago (AP) — Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize-winning scientist who was a key figure in the development of the atom bomb, expressed the belief yesterday that the United States has successfully exploded its first hydrogen bomb.

Referring to an announcement of the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday that hydrogen bomb "research" was included in the new weapons test program at Eniwetok atoll, Urey said:

"It sounds like official language that the writers were describing a successful H-bomb."

Urey won the Nobel Prize in 1934 for his discovery of heavy hydrogen—one of the supposed "super" ingredients required in a hydrogen bomb explosion.

Snow, Biting Cold Slow Down Fighting On Korean Fronts

Seoul, Monday, Nov. 17 (AP) — Fleecy snow and biting cold gripped the Korean battle front today. Grim, bloody fighting for shell-plowed hills slumped to its lowest point in more than a month.

The U. S. Eighth Army official tactical report summed up the situation last night and this morning on snow-draped Sniper Ridge and Triangle Hill:

"Negative action."
South Korean infantrymen on the crest of Sniper Ridge beat off three light Chinese Red thrusts Sunday.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported from the Central Front Sunday night that the Chinese had been jabbing at Allied positions on Pinpoint Hill, highest point on Sniper Ridge, and nearby Little Finger Ridge for nearly 24 hours.

He described the Red attacks as "nothing heavy," adding, "there is no particular pattern—it seems to be a constant harassment."

The ridge fights quieted during the night as the temperature plunged below freezing.

Snow mantled the mountainous eastern end of the 155-mile front. Some 20 miles west of Sniper Ridge, other U. S. Eighth Army troops lost Jackson Heights, north of Chorwon, after regaining it Saturday.

U. S. F86 Sabre jets swept deep over northwest Korea but reported no contacts with the Red Air Force.

Korean Truce Debate Boggled May Go To '53

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Korean truce debate were bogged down here yesterday as hopelessly as the deadlocked truce talks at Panmunjom, and extension of the U. N. Assembly into 1953 was being discussed as a possibility.

The session began Oct. 14 and was scheduled to end Dec. 20.

The Assembly is near the end of five weeks of meetings and four weeks of debate on Korea and thus past the scheduled half-way mark of its 1952 session.

Some delegates were already talking of recessing for Christmas and holding over the Assembly through the early part of next year. There also was some talk of keeping the Assembly in session on a quick-call basis—as the 1950 session continued through 1951 after Korea armistice negotiations were begun—in the event of a break in the deadlock.

The recess over the Christmas holidays might be lengthened to late in January. This would allow the Assembly to return after the inauguration of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower, with a clear picture of both the policy and the competence of the spokesmen in the U. S. delegation. Talks between Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dean Acheson in Washington Tuesday may give some clue.

U. N. Secretariat officials, who delayed the Assembly opening for a month to escape some of the heat of the U. S. presidential elections said no decision on extending the Assembly will be made until about Dec. 10.

Celebrates 110th

Eaton (AP) — A spry, frail fellow with a passion for jewelry and a hankering to see television celebrated his 110th birthday yesterday.

"Seen a lot of things" mused Walter W. Williams, the oldest Confederate veteran in the nation, "But I never have seen that television."

Farmer Bitten By Invading "Mad" Porker

A Broadheadsville farmer was treated at General Hospital dispensary last night after he had been bitten by a "mad hog."

Hospital authorities said Homer Beers told them he had been taking care of pigs in his farm lot when a 300-lb. hog, foaming at the mouth, began fighting with his swine.

The hog, apparently, did not belong to Beers. When the young farmer tried to separate the mad hog from his own pigs, he was bitten once above the right knee.

The wound required four stitches to close. Beers also received tetanus injections to ward off possible infection.

Ike Will Meet Taft, Others In New York

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith
Augusta, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower will meet with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other GOP congressional leaders in New York Wednesday, following up his White House conference with President Truman Tuesday.

Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Commission, and Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, in line to be speaker of the House, will talk over legislative program plans of the new administration with the general at his Commodore Hotel headquarters in Manhattan.

After that conference at 11 a. m. EST, the President-elect will meet separately with Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire at noon and with Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin at 3:30 p. m.

Wiley is slated to become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when the Republicans take over control of Congress in January. He is a delegate to the United Nations General Assembly now in session in New York, and has been urging Eisenhower to make a public statement on the Korean situation, supporting the policy of insisting on voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war in any armistice agreement.

Bridges was Senate minority leader in the Democratic-controlled 82nd Congress, and may be majority leader in the new Congress convening Jan. 3. He also can have the chairmanship of either the Senate Appropriations Committee or the Armed Services Committee.

Also on Eisenhower's Wednesday calling list are Jack Porter, Republican National Committee leader from Texas; Louis K. Gough, national commander of the American Legion, just back from Korea; Herbert Brownell Jr., former chairman of the GOP National Committee and a close adviser to the general; and Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, who was Eisenhower's political chief of staff during the campaign.

His headquarters said today there had been no change in the situation—that no time has been set for the general's departure for Korea.

Absentee Military Ballots Give Eisenhower Plurality In Pennsylvania Returns

Philadelphia (AP) — With more than seven-eighths of Pennsylvania's 8472 precincts accounted for, absentee military ballots have piled up a substantial soldier vote plurality for President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The returns from 3,758 precincts, including Philadelphia's 1,417 districts, show these results:

Eisenhower, 9,440.
Adlai Stevenson, 5,887.

In the senatorial race, with 2,279 precincts counted — Philadelphia's count has not been completed — Republican incumbent Edward Martin, the victor, added to his margin over Democrat Guy K. Bard.

The military vote showed:

Martin, 5,492; Bard, 2,265.

Allegheny County, which, with Philadelphia, went heavily Democratic in the civilian vote Nov. 4, probably won't complete its soldier vote tabulation until next week. Results from twenty-nine other counties also are missing.

In the civilian balloting, Eisenhower won Pennsylvania's 32 electoral votes by a 53 per cent majority while Martin, reelected to a second term in the Senate, won with a 32 per cent majority.

Servicemen from Philadelphia County, where Stevenson won a 160,000 majority in the civilian vote, gave a slight majority of their votes to Eisenhower. The county vote was 3,860 for Eisenhower and 3,430 for Stevenson.

The soldier vote in Juniata County settled a close general assembly contest where Karl B. Guss, Mifflintown Democrat, was declared the victor over his Republican opponent, George C. Lyter of Port Royal. Guss, an undertaker, had only a nine vote lead when the absentee ballot count began. He picked up an additional margin of 17 to win 2,297 to Lyter's 2,271.

The military votes also gave Hazleton's Republican Mayor Edward Bonin a certain congressional victory over Democratic Rep. Daniel J. Flood. Although the absentee voters favored Flood 840 to 607, Bonin still ended the race with a total margin of 601 votes.

The soldier vote failed to upset the close margin of victory which Rep. George M. Rhodes had held in the civilian balloting for re-election from the 14th Congressional District. The soldier vote was 492 for James W. Beriolet, Republican attorney from Reading, and 407 for Rhodes. Thus, Rhodes, a Democrat, was returned to a third term in the House with a margin of 497 votes.

Half Dozen "Inner Circle" Jobs Open At White House; All Will Assist President

By Douglas R. Cornell

Washington (AP) — White House jobs for half a dozen people who like to keep their names out of print—people with ability, vigor and a "passion for anonymity"—will open up when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moves in on Jan. 20.

The pay is comparatively good as government salaries go—$15,000 a year. The jobs carry the title of administrative assistant to the President.

These are "inner circle" positions, and the general is expected to fill them largely with men who served on his political staff during the presidential campaign or who worked closely with him during his days in uniform. That might mean men like:

Gabriel Hague and Kevin McCann, who helped with writing and research for speeches. Arthur Vandenberg Jr., son of the late Michigan senator, who was a planner and executive assistant at Eisenhower campaign headquarters in New York. Wilton Persons, and perhaps Lucius D. Clay in some sort of advisory role. Both are retired generals who served with Eisenhower in Europe.

Clay also has been mentioned for some higher post in an executive department or agency. Persons has a Washington background and a wide circle of friends at the capitol, where Eisenhower might find him valuable for liaison work with Congress.

Administrative assistants were provided for in the Government Reorganization Act of 1937, after a study by a committee on administrative management. They collect and analyze information on which the president can base decisions, then check to see that agencies carry out the decisions.

GOP Women Gun For Posts In Cabinet

Washington (AP) — Republican women leaders aren't optimistic about putting a woman in the Eisenhower cabinet right away, but they are gunning for the posts of assistant secretary in at least five executive departments: Post Office, Agriculture, Commerce, Interior and Defense Departments.

Mrs. Ivy Priest, head of the Republican women's division, told reporters President-elect Eisenhower had assured her he would appoint women to keep government posts. She said that with the advice of other Republican Women leaders she is compiling a list of qualified women which she will submit to Eisenhower.

The women think it nice that their brother Republican leaders credit them with a major part in the Nov. 4 GOP victory, and they want a larger share of the political pie.

Representatives of the Republican women's division estimate there are about 200 positions in the federal government.

Rain And Fog Halt Recovery Of Many Bodies

Seoul, (AP) — Rain and fog late Sunday halted the recovery of bodies from a U.S. Air Force transport disaster that claimed 44 American lives on a snowy Korean mountain-side, while the frigid Sea of Japan hid 13 others who perished in a second plane crash about midnight Saturday.

It was the worst weekend for air fatalities since the start of the Korean war.

Air and ground teams awaited clearing weather to resume the helicopter lift of bodies from a C-119 Flying Boxcar that hit a mountain-side east of Seoul on Friday. Thirteen of the 44 bodies had been recovered when bad weather forced a halt.

No trace has been found of 13 men presumed killed when their twin-engined C46 transport plummeted into the Sea of Japan 500 yards off Korea's east coast Saturday night. Of the 20 aboard, seven escaped. Picked up by boats, five were treated at a dispensary for minor injuries, while two more seriously hurt were flown to a hospital near Seoul.

All names were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Interviewed in the hospital Sunday, the two most seriously injured men said the twin-engined C46 hit the water before they knew what happened.

One of the two, a 28-year-old Air Force staff sergeant from California, described himself as "one helluva lucky son of a gun." He said the amphibian Duck which picked him up and took him to shore capsized on its next trip to the crash area.

The other was a 21-year-old airman third class who had arrived in Korea only the day before the crash. An American of Japanese descent from Honolulu, he was en route to Fusan and was asleep when the plane hit the sea.

"The next thing I knew I was in the water. I don't know how I got out of the plane," he said. The Californian described his experience this way:

"When we got in the air I noticed a fellow's parachute ring was loose. After we got up, I loosened my safety belt and walked over and fixed the ring for him. Then —Wham!"

"I don't know what happened."

"I took about 16 somersaults in the plane. The next thing I knew, I was swallowing salt water. I saw the tail section sticking straight up and the right wing was on end. From the way my leg felt I knew it was broken."

"I don't know how I got out. The tail was split from the fuselage and I guess I was thrown out of that. I guess I swallowed half of the Japan Sea. I spotted several people floating around, hollering for help."

"My Mae West had been slashed across the chest, so I discarded it. I finally swam over to another fellow hanging on to a mail sack. He had a Mae West inflated under his chute."

"We hung on for about 40 minutes until an amphibian Duck picked us up."

Hunters Seek Bear Today

Harrisburg (AP) — Pennsylvania hunters get their annual chance to bring home a bear today as the six-day bruin season opens at 7 a. m.

Last year 429 bears were bagged in the commonwealth.

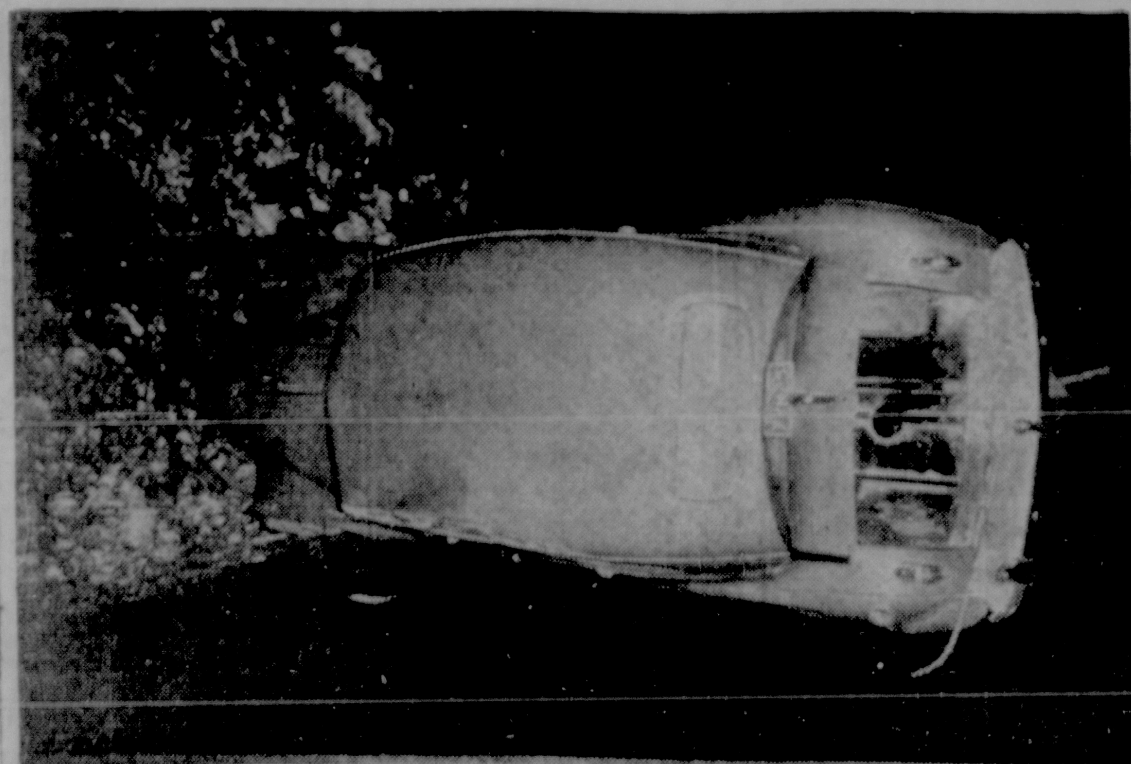

The rugged, wooded areas of Northcentral Pennsylvania continue to be the best hunting grounds for the elusive bruins with the big game animals also in smaller numbers in Northeastern and Northwestern sections.

The bear season ends at 5 p. m. next Saturday. It runs simultaneously with the small game season. The latter, however, ends Nov. 29 with a special six-day season fixed for Dec. 22-27.

Individual hunters are permitted to kill one bear each with a party of three or more persons limited to two bears.

The State Game Commission warned hunters to make sure the bear in their sights is over one year old before squeezing the trigger.

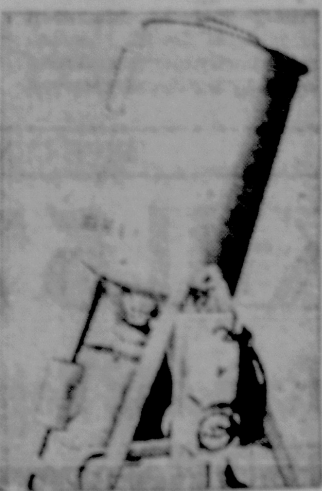

"How to tell the age? Make sure the animal is a large one, a trophy that can be shown with pride."

MRS. SAMUEL SHARLOT, Delaware Water Gap, was injured at 6 p.m. yesterday when the car her husband was driving overturned on Route 90 at the Northampton-Monroe County line. Relatives in the car following took Mrs. Sharlot to the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg. She was admitted for treatment of shock, was reported in "good condition." Her husband was uninjured. Damage to the car was slight. (Daily Record photo)

Agromat Machine Converts Waste Materials For Use As Organic Soil Improver

Calling all people with garbage, trash and waste disposal problems. Joseph H. Andre, Monroe County's garden and farm implement dealer, has the latest and newest machine for you "Agromat" . . . a simple, fast, efficient, patented machine for converting your WASTE MATERIALS . . . leaves, grass cuttings, garbage, garden trash, weeds, manure, old newspapers . . . into fluid, odorless, organic mulch to enrich your soil, and produce bigger and better crops.

The Agromat standard model is well suited for the average family and a small garden. It takes care of the daily garbage by transforming it into a rich humus. Each batch will cover 10 square feet with FAM. All steel construction with anti-rust coating and finished with a pleasant green two-tone enamel make the Agromat a good-looking and long lasting piece of equipment. Fitted with 110/220 volt, 60 cycle, single phase 1.2 HP electric motor with direct bronze coupling for the Agropeller, starter and timer shut-off switch.

The most sensational development in the field of scientific horticulture! Only Agromat produces amazing growing power. FAM saves all weeding and cultivating. There is no need for garden tractors, cultivators, tillage and other expensive tools in FAM gardening.

FAM retains moisture in the soil, right to the top even through dry spells. This is the prime necessity for plant growth—steady moisture creates more extensive root development. FAM adds organic matter to enrich the soil with bacteria and earthworms creating rich plant food and top soil.

FAM protects the improved soil, prevents loss of nutrients, maintains even cool temperature, keeps soil loose and fertile, increases vitamins in vegetables with improved flavor and keeping qualities. Larger models are available for

Monroe County Firemen's Group Sets Up Plans For Constructive Programs

Plans for constructive programs for the coming year at meetings of the Monroe County Firemen's Assn. were discussed at the meeting at the Marshalls Creek company quarters in order to increase interest and attendance.

Host companies will be requested to name committees to plan the programs for their respective meetings with qualified speakers to bring out points of interest in fire fighting.

Bi-monthly meetings during the coming year will be held the second Thursday night of the month. The list follows: January, Acme Hose, East Stroudsburg; March, Stroudsburg Fire Dept.; May, Pocono Pine Co.; July, Stroud Twp. Fire Dept.; September, Pocono Twp. Volunteer Fire Co. and November, Pocono Mts. Fire Co., Mount Pocono.

Martin A. Bitterman, the president, commended the success of the observation of Fire Prevention Week throughout the county and promised beneficial effects of the school programs and Tannersville demonstration and thanked all for their participation. He urged making every week Fire Prevention Week.

Bitterman said that Joe Webster, of Station WVPO desired tape recordings from firemen throughout the county such as used during Fire Prevention Week to be used at different times and asked all interested to contact him.

The thanks of the association was extended James Albert for preparing the chart of fire fighting equipment of the fire departments of Monroe County, copies of which were distributed among the nine companies represented at the meetings.

Announcement was made there would be a demonstration of fighting electrical fires at the P.P.E.L. substation, Mount Pocono, Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 1 p.m. when all interested firemen are welcome to attend.

The barbecue luncheon served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the host company was much enjoyed by the 55 firemen at the meeting.

Barrett H. S. To See Ski Safety Films

Cresco — Vocational guidance classes of the Barrett Township High School will see a full-color motion picture on skiing safety Thursday and Friday, Dec. 4 and 5 at 10:30 a.m. It was announced this week by Andrew Lewis, principal of the school.

Showing of the film, entitled "Ski Tips" was arranged by Roy L. Seams, coordinator of visual aids at the school. The movie is produced and distributed by the Aetna Casualty and Surety Co.

Lowell Thomas, well-known radio commentator and world traveler, narrates the film which outlines basic ski safety rules for both expert and novice ski enthusiasts.

Action in the film takes place on the slopes of Franconia Notch, one of New Hampshire's leading ski areas.

Showing of the film will be open to the general public. All those interested in ski safety are urged to be present.

The title "Prince of Wales," often held by the British crown prince is not inherited but conferred upon each holder individually.

The basin area of the Great Lakes is about 248,500 square miles.

Their Country's Call

Adlai Stevenson is being urged by some leading and responsible Democrats to stay out of any "entanglements" with the Eisenhower administration.

This arises from somebody's published hunch that General Eisenhower, in an effort to restore bipartisan action on foreign policy, may ask Mr. Stevenson to become a delegate to the United Nations, or take some similar post.

We have no idea whether the President-elect has any such notion.

And we agree with Senator J. William Fulbright, for instance, that Mr. Stevenson can do a useful and necessary service as leader of the "loyal opposition."

Just the same, if the President thinks Mr. Stevenson, or any other Democrat, especially fits an important assignment, it should be regarded as a call to duty.

There has been some guessing, also, that Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia might be offered the post of Treasury secretary.

There is no indication that General Eisenhower has this in mind, either. But no one knows more about the awesome federal budget, or has a better idea of how to reduce it, or make sense of it.

Men are inducted into the armed services regardless of their politics. Leadership is just as high as duty.

The argument that men like Governor Stevenson or Senator Byrd would be "silenced" by accepting responsibility is groundless. General Eisenhower wasn't "silenced," although the Democrats claimed he had been a part of their administration.

Neither was John Foster Dulles, nor Paul Hoffman, nor Kenneth Royall.

The late Senator Vandenberg was one of the makers of the bipartisan foreign policy which prevailed for a while.

Washington Report

—by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Bishop W. J. Walls

Washington — I have in hand a letter from Bishop W. J. Walls, Second Episcopal District, A. M. E. Zion Church, Chicago, Ill. The Bishop writes: "On your article, 'New Storm on McCarthyism,' published recently you stated the following: 'Bishop W. J. Walls, secretary of the board of bishops of the A. M. E. Zion Church, is another member of the committee to repeal the McCarran-Walter Immigration bill. He is cited as a member of four of the worst Red fronts, and according to the Daily Worker of October 28, 1949, he endorsed Benjamin J. Davis Jr., a Communist, for reelection to the New York City Council.'"

The Bishop continues: "That seems to have been the reference to my being slighted (he means cited) as a member of four of the worst Red fronts and copied from a report of a year and a half ago made by another newspaper. I asked them and I ask now for the names of those organizations. Are you merely quoting, or have you seen evidence of what you state? I do not know what these organizations were or are."

I oblige the Bishop: On page 2, December, 1942 issue of "Soviet Russia Today," a blatant apologist for Communism, Bishop W. J. Walls is listed as a sponsor of the Congress of American-Soviet friendship. The congress was cited as Communist by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, report 1311, March 29, 1944.

The National Council of American-Soviet friendship, on a letterhead dated March 13, 1946, and in a memorandum issued by the organization, March 18, 1946, lists Bishop W. J. Walls as a sponsor. The National Council of American-Soviet Friendship has been cited as subversive and as the "principal front of the Communist Party" by the United States General of the United States.

That's two of the four "worst Red fronts." Here are two more: Bishop W. J. Walls was a supporter of the National Negro Congress, according to a story on page 2 of the Communist Daily Worker of February 3, 1936. James W. Ford, Communist Party vice presidential candidate, elected to the Communist Party executive committee in 1937, said that the National Negro Congress is "an important

"I do not forget that Dr. Guillotine, who invented the death machine in France, in the latter part of the Eighteenth Century, fell under its axe himself before the campaign of brutality, cruel misrepresentation, and murder ended."

I have searched the Bishop's record in vain to determine if he means Soviet Russia, its slave labor camps and dictatorship. He does not.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

The Cultural Lack

I was among chemical engineers and instrument makers and I heard the same tale of woe of the shortage of trained men and the inadequate recruiting of students in the colleges in these particular skills.

It is much like the shortage of nurses in all hospitals, the shortage of internes in country hospitals, the shortage of engineers, generally.

These shortages can only mean that not enough boys at college find it worth their while to go through the grind of taking professional courses and that the prospect of conception, of interrupted studies and broken lives looms the interest in such careers particularly as a young man may have to delay the beginning of his career until it is too late.

This is as serious a national as a personal problem. The electrical, electronic, chemical, civil, mechanical and all sorts of other engineers as well as biologists, laboratory workers and other scientists are essential to the well-being of our citizens as well as to the conduct of any kind of war we need to fight. If no provision can be made to separate those who are fit for such studies, we may find, after awhile, say in 10 years, that the United States will be forced to import sharp minds and skilled technicians from abroad to do the essential work of this nation.

Always one hears that production wins wars; that our industry can out-produce any country in the world.

Few, however, realize where modern industry begins; where it is controlled against faulty production—where it is planned and measured and guided. Without scientific laboratories and without engineers there can be no production; without them there can be no formulae even for making steel much less the chemicals that are so essential to industry. What are we to do? Bring engineers from England and chemists from Germany?

I was once talking to a mamma on this subject and she protested that in a democracy all boys should be equal and the smart boy should not be kept at college while her son is in Korea. Apparently her son is not smart, because her concept of an education was limited to fraternities, societies, football and other by-products. She had no idea of the vast amounts of knowledge that went into the making of her nylon and the slacker with which she covered her fingernails. Nor did she realize the engineering and testing that has to go into making the linings that she rides. It takes smart boys to prepare themselves to be able men who can produce such items as well as atom bombs and other instruments of destruction and defense.

Never before have we, in this country, encountered this type of shortage of manpower, nor does it exist in the country of our enemy, Soviet Russia, which boasts of the differentiation that is made there between those who go into military service and those who go into science and engineering.

The selection of smart boys needs, of course, to be a rigid one, lest the politicians sell exemptions from conscription to dopes, morons and idiots. That is always possible if the tests are not stiff enough and high grades not hard enough to get. Yet, there can be no mistaking the boy who is a chemist or a physicist, the biologist or the engineer. He is born that way and takes to it in his youngest years. Just as a genius on the piano or the violin usually discovers skill before even papa or mamma can point with pride, so the smart boys show their competence in the earliest years at school.

I know a boy who when he was twelve could explain atomic fission with sufficient intelligence and accuracy to interest a specialist in the field. It is possible to catch these young fellows at an early age, to cultivate their gifts and to give them, a push in the right direction where they can be most useful to the country.

The military politicians are afraid of this whole proposition because whenever they have to make deferment categories there is an outcry from parents which is reflected in Congress. However, the present shortage, with definite indications of a bleak future, requires immediate thought and action. Every year that is lost means shortages seven or eight years later which cannot at that time be repaired.

He assured me gravely, "Dad, I not only invited him to come, I dared him to."

The Broadway Show
First-Knight: The theater's ambassadors extended every diplomatic courtesy to a visiting Parisian troupe. A month of repertory was auspiciously launched with a double bill, "Les Femmes Confidentes" and "Baptiste." The reviewers veeva-la-frant the shows and kissed the casts on both cheeks. The actors speak French but their superb artistry speaks an international lingo. . . . Moeur Brieux Atkinson out-ou'd: "A thorough delight." . . . The finale of the G&S series, "Jolande," provided a wow finish. The music was chor'd by critics singing its praises. . . . One show beyond Broadway borders celebrated a happy birthday—another had a funeral. A comedy titled, "Time Out For Ginger" was hailed as ginger-peachy by the observers in Philly. . . . "Rise by Sin," a meller, perished in Washington—that town's biggest, phlop since Harry S. Truman. . . . The Metropolitan's premiere had the customary Tiffany trimmings. Everybody was there, my dear: Miss Mink, Mister Tophat and Moddorn Tiers.

In the Wings: French playwright Louis Verneuil the killed himself last week wrote one of Bernhard's earliest plays. . . . At his first meeting with The Divine Sarah (who had lost a leg) she suggested a walk in the garden. Verneuil offered the limping woman his arm and asked: "Can I help you?" "Don't be silly," she giggled. "Playwrights don't help Bernhard. Bernhard helps playwrights!"

The Kodakists: Spencer Tracy is at the helm of the Mayflower in "Plymouth Adventure" and everything is ship-shape. Gene Tierney makes it ship-shapey. . . . "Something for the Birds" is a feathery tweet. . . . "Angel Street" is the British version of the last exotic. Anton Walbrook expertly plays the Beastlike Rottach. . . . "The Steel Trap" is a superior shucker that features shivers—except when Teresa Wright is around to keep you warm. . . . "Breaking Through the Sound Barrier" unveils a tingling tribute to the airmen who pioneered jets. . . . "Bloodhounds of Broadway" is an entertaining tale involving Runyon's royalty, who inhabit Lindy's kingdom. . . . "Pistol Harvest" is hardly worth sleeping through, and "No Holds Barred" deals with rascals who are defeated by the plot. End of Grunt.

The Funnies: "Wonder what the Democrats will be doing this time next year?" . . . "Probably hocking mink coats." . . . Borey Yellow (disc jurq-defender of Josephine Baker) went to California to "get away from a headache in Argentina." . . . For the Demos the Harrymoon is over. . . . George Marton (of Paris) reminds us that during the war Adm. Cunningham was knighted twice. Churchill supposedly wired him: "Twice a knight and at your age! Congratulations!"

The Telebrities: The CBS documentary series, "The Big Picture," records the agony and glory of Yanks in Korea. Its compelling narration has words for the music of drumbeats. The original story was written in blood. . . . "The Adventures of Michael Shayne" (starring Robert Sterling) is unusual sleuth stuff. Sounds like it was written—not mimeographed. . . . "Omni-

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

This is a travel column about ham and eggs and gasoline stations. It is also about the fact that, as you get older, you get more cantankerous and much more susceptible to petty annoyances. It is an idea that as you get along in life get along in life. You become more interested in the things that affect your personal comfort and convenience. If so, I must be about 145. But I do know I am getting along in years because, whereas, I used to read the births, engagements and marriages in my paper, I now turn first to the obits and second to the divorces. I guess the psychology must be that I am so glad I am still alive and that I am so pleased my wife has put up with me this long.

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — George Bernard Shaw's play, "Androcles and the Lion," has been translated quite faithfully into a spectacular, full-length, but somewhat dull and perplexing movie. Perhaps the screen more literal than the stage, is no place to blend comedy with the ancient Roman sport of feeding Christians to the lions.

Shaw based his 1912, two-act play on the old story of the slave who plucked a thorn from a suffering lion's paw in the woods. Later, in the arena, the lion recognized Androcles and refused to devour him.

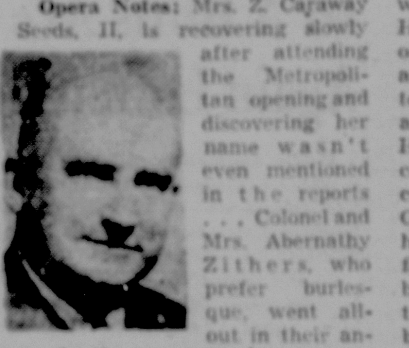

Androcles (Alan Young) is a Christian and an animal-lover. He seems more of a simpleton than a martyr. Shaw's and the movie's martyrs are at times an improbably jaunty lot. But the main conflict in climax comes with the picture's moods in the Colosseum.

Bloodthirsty mobs scream with delight as a beserk Christian, Robert Newton, slays several gladiators with a sword. Lions wait to consume other Christians. There's a magnificent set, and the atmosphere is one of horror.

Then Androcles, tripping out to face a lion, calls a cheery name: "He hopes with her next wife will be 'poor fellow'." And he and the lion, who proves friendly,

The Real News Newsreel
Opera Notes: Mrs. Z. Cagaway Seeds, II, is recovering slowly after attending the Metropolitan opening and discovering her name wasn't even mentioned in the reports. . . . Colonel and Mrs. Abernathy Zithers, who prefer burlesque, went all out in their annual effort to reflect an interest in good music. . . . Mrs. Waddingham-Beeves is doing as well as could be expected after two blood transfusions necessary as a result of the fact she showed up in the chinchilla of the year and wasn't photographed.

It seems a Bayside young woman who was, until recently, a stenographer on the U. S. payroll at U. N. was a Russian citizen and saw no harm in it. . . . Probably liked the red ribbon belt was jarred by the fact the belt rang every time the carriage went too far to the left. . . . There is nothing to the rumor the new auto sponsoring Groucho Marx has moveable eyebrows over both front lamps and a cigar on the hood. . . . A smart new panel show is "Where Was I?" with Eddie Dunn as m.c.

Shaw's satirical spoofing may be acceptable on the stage; on the realistic screen it fails to seem very funny. The philosophical discussions among his characters are pertinent and interesting: Is courage only pride? Do all martyrs go to heaven regardless of past sins? Do animals go to heaven?

The acting is most excellent. Jean Simmons is a lovely and sensitive Lavinia, aristocratic martyr. Victor Mature, in 87 pounds of armor, looks every bit the stalwart captain who falls in love with her. Maurice Evans is impressive as an amiably ruthless Caesar. Others include Elsa Lanchester as Androcles' nagging wife, Reginald Gardiner as the foppish Lentulus, Gene Lockhart as the menagerie keeper, and Alan Mowbray as boss of the gladiators.

The two million dollar film was produced here for RKO by Hungarian-born Gabriel Pascal, who holds film rights to all of Shaw's plays. Previously he produced "Pygmalion," "Major Barbara," and "Caesar and Cleopatra" in England.

Auto Insurance Rates Increase $1 To $12 Starting Today

Commissioner Sanctions New State Charges

Automobile insurance rates will go up today in Monroe County and most other sections of Pennsylvania.

Insurance Commissioner Arthur C. Leslie announced approval of the rate increases, applying only to insurance against bodily injury and property damage, last night.

Collision and other types of auto insurance are not affected by the increase.

The announcement of the increase means that most Monroe County policy holders will pay from one to $12 more per year on their insurance.

Class One cars, which are not used for business by the operator, and which have no operators under 25 years of age, will be increased from $28 to $30 per year—amounting to one dollar each for bodily injury and property damage policies or two dollars for the two policies combined.

The increase on Class Two cars, those which are not used for business but whose operator is under 25 years of age, will amount to about three dollars for a new total of $49 per year.

Cars which are used for both business and non-business purposes with no operator under 25 years of age (Class Three) will now be insured at a cost of $43 per year.

Increases will also go into effect today on Class 4CA and Class 5CA commercial vehicles.

The rate changes are not uniform about the State. In some metropolitan areas—notably in the Pittsburgh suburban area, Carbondale, Lancaster, Scranton and York—rates will be decreased in accordance with lower accident rates in the area.

Monroe County insurance agents last night noted that "although no company likes to increase rates" the cost of repairs and payment of damages have risen sharply during the years since the close of World War Two.

Insurance rates, they pointed out, have not kept pace with these increases in any way, thereby causing a huge "underwriters loss" for companies during the time period.

The new rates apply specifically to insurance protecting the policyholder up to $5,000 for bodily injury to one person, $10,000 for

Annual Chest Is Nov. 24

The annual meeting of the Monroe County Community Chest and Council will be held at Stroud Community House Monday, Nov. 24 at 8 p.m., it was announced yesterday. The Chest this year is marking the 10th anniversary of its organization.

Much of its success in later years will depend on the interest and cooperation shown by community residents, J. Albert Groner, president of the council said.

Reports will be heard at the meeting and an election of officers for the coming year will be held.

The Social Planning Committee has arranged a talk by Mrs. Maria E. Shelmire, executive director of the family service of Delaware County in Media, Pa.

bodily injury to two or more persons and $5,000 for property damage.

In effect, this type of insurance protects a motorist against court suits for up to those amounts after an accident.

CHS Seniors To Give Play

Brookheadsville — A three-act comedy by Samuel French, "Pigtails," will be presented in the auditorium at Chestnuthill High School here Wednesday at 8 p.m. Cast of the senior play has been rehearsing almost daily for the past six weeks for the single performance. Charged With Overloading

Two truck drivers were arrested for driving overweight trucks Saturday in Stroudsburg. Each paid a $55 fine.

State police listed the two as James F. Zaccagnino, 27, Buffalo, N.Y., and LeRoy D. Sweet Jr., 34, Scranton, Pa. Information was filed with Justice of the Peace William N. Watson, who levied the fines.

The two men were committed to the county jail at 2:30 a.m. Saturday, paid their fines and were released at 5:10 p.m. the same day.

Is Injured

Wind gap—Mrs. Anthony C. Graham, 75, Allentown, the former Daisy Fetherman of Stroudsburg, was one of six persons cut and bruised in a head-on crash yesterday three miles southwest of here on Route 512. None of the injured was reported in serious condition.

Medical Society Starts Free Diabetes Testing Project In County Today

There's a good chance someone reading these words may, without knowing it, be suffering from a possibly fatal disease.

It's also likely that by the end of this week most of these unaware sufferers will know all about their disease and how to lead normal lives in spite of it.

To give these persons a life-saving warning, Monroe County's doctors and druggists start today as program of mass detective work.

They hope to save lives — by tracking down diabetes.

It's an insidious disease that plays no favorites in terms of race, age or income, though most frequent victims are over 40, overweight, female, married, and with a history of diabetes in the family.

Diabetes ranks eighth on the list of killer diseases in the U. S.

In America there are about a million people walking around without knowing they are suffering from diabetes. Each year there are 60,000 new cases. Only a small number are detected.

Known sufferers of diabetes include an estimated 100,000 children.

There is little doubt that some of the unknowns are living in Monroe County.

Today through Saturday the County Medical Society is going to do its utmost to find these victims—while there is still time to correct or control the ailment.

This detective work will cost Monroe County residents nothing. There are more than 33,000 in Monroe County. "They'll all be tested, if they're sensible, one official observed.

The test itself is the essence of simplicity. A specimen of urine is required from each person to be tested . . . about an ounce. The bottle should be sealed and labeled with the name, address, age, sex and the name of the family physician.

The specimen should be dropped off at the nearest doctor's office, drugstore, or the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg.

The Red Cross has agreed to collect specimens from doctors' offices and drugstores, for transfer to the General Hospital.

The actual testing will be done at the hospital, except for some outlying county districts where doctors will do their own testing.

Volunteer help from physicians and Gray Ladies will speed the tests. Dr. M. J. Leitner, hospital pathologist, will be in charge.

The test is called the "Gala test." A special powder is added to a drop of urine from the test sample. If it turns black—diabetes is probable.

One doctor warned last night, however, "We'll get a few false positives on these simple tests." Truth of the findings would be checked by more detailed tests if the first result is positive.

Mrs. Serfass Dies At Home Of Daughter

Mrs. Louise Serfass, 82, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Buck, Stroudsburg, at 9:45 p.m. Saturday. She was the wife of the late Edwin Serfass, Brodheadsville, and had lived most of her life in the West End.

She was a member of Zion Lutheran Church, and Ladies Aid of Brodheadsville, and the daughter of the late William and Catherine Loux Shupp.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Buck, are her son, M. L. Serfass, Brodheadsville postmaster; three brothers, Edwin Shupp, Bethlehem; Charles and David Shupp of Brodheadsville.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Edgar Hamm funeral home, Brodheadsville. Rev. John B. Bergstresser officiating. Interment will be made in Brodheadsville Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Cars Damaged In Collision

Damages totalled $100 when two cars collided at 12:30 a.m. yesterday at the south end of Seventh St. bridge, Stroudsburg.

Borough police said Rachel Lessig, 40, of 509 Main St., Stroudsburg, had started to turn out of a service station and onto the highway.

Her car collided with one driven by Robert J. Rothrock, 21, East Avon Rd., N. Y., police said. Damages were estimated as $60 to Rothrock's car and $40 to the Lessig auto.

5th Banquet Laurel Court Of Amaranth

The fifth annual banquet of Laurel Court, Order of Amaranth, held at Skyline Inn, Mount Pocono, Friday night was attended by approximately 100 members and guests.

Following the dinner there was dancing and cards. Entertainment was furnished by the Tennessee Seven Jug band, composed of students of Stroudsburg High School who were highly commended.

Mrs. Betty Tretheway, royal matron. Presented these guests: Mrs. Dorothy Lim, district deputy grand royal matron, Stroudsburg; Hazel Tyler, royal matron, Allentown court; Madge Brazil, royal patron, Allentown court; Ethel Smith, royal patron, Easton court; Margaret Koch, royal patron, Lafayette court, Easton. Officers and past officers were also present.

Mrs. Lim, on behalf of the court, presented Mrs. Tretheway, royal matron, and also in absentia Kathleen VanWyn, who was ill, with gifts of appreciation of their services.

The tables presented an attractive colorful appearance with flowers and colors of the court, red and white. The favors were small flower vases.

Those in charge of arrangements were highly complimented for the pleasurable time furnished.

Community Day Service In Portland

Portland — World Community Day was observed in the Methodist church here last week with Mrs. Lila Rosenberry, of Stone Church, president, of the United Council of Church Women presiding.

Mrs. Harry Bellis gave invocation. Readings entitled "To Build Lasting Peace" and "Lasting Peace" were given by Mrs. Nicholas Ervey, Mrs. Ira Ditt, Mrs. Elias Jones, Mrs. Ernest Courtney, Mrs. Leroy Hester and Mrs. Homer McQueen.

Offertory prayer was by Mrs. Bellis. Mrs. Ervey, president of the Woman's Society of the host church introduced Rev. John S. Carter, pastor, who spoke on "Building a Firm Foundation Here at Home."

Congregational singing was directed by Mrs. G. J. Davies, of Portland with Mrs. Walter Emery as accompanist. An anthem was sung by the host choir and Miss Ruth Ervey, of Easton, sang a solo "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain."

Packets for peace, including lacyettes and clothing for children up to six years of age were presented by the presidents of each of the ten churches represented. Mrs. David R. Edwards, wife of the pastor of the Presbyterian Church conducted the dedicatory service and closing prayer was by Mrs. John Early.

New Brownie Troop Organized At Tannersville

Tannersville — A troop of Brownie Scouts has now been organized under the leadership of Mrs. Sarah Wimer and Mrs. Archer Law. Their first meeting was held on Thursday, Nov. 6 after school at the school house, and will be held at the same place each succeeding week.

There were eighteen girls present at this first meeting. Girls in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Grades are eligible and if the mothers of any girls not already belonging to the troop with further information they may call either leader.

Blue And White Capes For Pocono School Band

Tannersville — The Band Boosters met at 7:15 on Wednesday, Nov. 12, with the president, Mrs. Keturah Hartman, in the chair. Mrs. Hartman thanked everyone who had helped with their cake sale.

Cavuto Carmen, band director, announced the purchase of a baritone horn and a field drum, paid for by Association funds, and also announced a bass horn had been given the band by Mrs. Roger Shook.

The group discussed the capes for the band uniforms and Mrs. Hartman will appoint a Committee to proceed with the purchase of the material and cut them out. The uniforms will have royal blue capes, lined with white, with white duck trousers.

The club prize was won by Mr. Cavuto and given by Mrs. James. Mrs. Frailey reminded the group of the time for future meetings, at 7:15 just before the PTA meetings. Anyone interested in music is welcome to attend the meetings, even if they have no children in the Band. The next meeting will be Dec. 10.

Literary Group Hear Reviews

Portland — The Literary group of the Portland Woman's Club met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon. Miss Ruth Williams reviewed the book, "This I Remember," by Eleanor Roosevelt, while Mrs. Philip Strunk reviewed the biography of F. D. Roosevelt. Mrs. Charles Hilgert is chairman of the literary group.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Charles Hilgert, Mrs. E. L. Kennedy, Miss Ruth Williams, Mrs. Raymond Tramsue, Mrs. Philip Strunk, Mrs. Raymond Scott, Mrs. Elbel Seeley, Mrs. G. J. Davies and the hostess, Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

This may be one world, in a geographic sense, but when it comes to weather there were certainly two worlds — one for Saturday and one for Sunday.

The football fans who braved the elements on Saturday could certainly tell you in no uncertain terms what the one world was like—that is if they hadn't lost their voice to laryngitis.

However, they had their reward. The East Stroudsburg fans jumped themselves dry in the excitement of the last quarter, and the Stroudsburg grid-star mothers earned their chrysanthemums sitting through the downpour. Very good for chrysanthemums, however, which still looked fresh and festive for Sunday.

Sunday traffic was pretty heavy—at least around the front of the Presbyterian Church where three converging lines of traffic got all jammed up after church—one line waiting to greet Rev. John Belingham, another for Mrs. Belingham and the children and a third for the Farrells.

Which explains why there were so many late Sunday dinners—that and the fact that nobody felt like hustling yesterday. Spring fever in Indian Summer can be just as enervating.

In fact, do we really want to start another week, or not? Whoops—seems we don't have much of a choice—check that so-called calendar and grab your hat, friend.

West End Am. Legion Aux. Anniversary

Effort — The Ladies Auxiliary of West End Post, 927, American Legion, celebrated its fifth anniversary recently at a meeting held at the Pohopoko Hotel, this place, with a large attendance.

Guests were members of the local legion and also George N. Kemp Post, 346, East Stroudsburg. Belief Talks were given by Elmer Heffer, commander of the 30th District, also by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Achterman and Mrs. Heffer, all of the East Stroudsburg groups.

Hozelle Achey gave the history of the local auxiliary covering their many activities and accomplishments covering the five-year period.

Arrangements were made for a children's Christmas party to be held at the next meeting, Dec. 8, at the hotel here. Committees were named to plan for the affair.

Those named to the committees are: Refreshments and decorations, Hozelle Achey, chairlady, with Betty Fisher, Lorraine Eckman, Stella Kunkle, Joyce Frantz and Marguerite Shultz. Gifts, Violet Cursley, chairlady with Margaret Schubert. Entertainment, Beatrice Answalt chairlady, with Dorothy Gould and Marjorie Krome.

Refreshments were served by the auxiliary after the meeting adjourned.

Cherry Valley WSCS Plan To Give Play

Cherry Valley — The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Cherry Valley Methodist Church was entertained at a chicken dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dennis on Thursday, Nov. 13. Mrs. Donald Reish assisted.

Following the dinner, devotions were led by Mrs. Gertrude Nunn, followed by the song, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood led in prayer and the Scripture was read by Mrs. Hattie Williams. Mrs. Nunn also presented a poem. The president, Mrs. Andrew Keiser, was in charge of the meeting.

The Christmas party will be held Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Nunn at 8 p.m. Everyone is requested to bring a 25-cent gift for the grab bag.

The WSCS will sponsor a play, "Christmas in the Old Home Town," on Dec. 16 at the Cherry Valley Grange hall. Details will be announced.

The recent penny supper was reported a fine success and the group extended its thanks to everyone who assisted and the Grange for the use of equipment.

A donation of $5 was sent to the Deaconess Home in Philadelphia. Announcement was made that the regular December meeting would be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fasseler, Bassardville.

Present for the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hester, Rev. and Mrs. C. Clyde Levergood, Mrs. Andrew Keiser, Mrs. Sheldon Schubert, Mrs. Frank Zeller, Mrs. Samuel Getz, Mrs. Kurt Grunke, Mrs. Marianne Schmidt, Mrs. Mary Wengram.

Mrs. Linnie Hartman, Mrs. Gertrude Nunn, Mrs. Hattie Williams, Mrs. Fred Dennis, Mrs. Donald Reish, Mrs. Enos Sipthorpe Jr., Lawrence Reish, Frances Getz, Barbara Keiser, Marie Sipthorpe and a visitor, Mrs. Bertha Rodney, of Scranton.

The Mothers' Club of the YMCA will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the residence of Mrs. Esther Wallie, 165 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg. A large attendance is urged by the officers who state there is important business on the agenda. Mrs. Muriel Hughes, Mrs. Ruth Smith and Mrs. Wallie will be hostesses for the meeting.

Miss Mackintosh Is Fall Bride Of Nicholas Guerro

Bangor — Miss Jeannine Mackintosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mackintosh, of 666 Snyder St., Bangor, and Nicholas Guerro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Guerro, of 449 Broad St., Pen Argyl, were married 10 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Wind Gap. Rev. Mr. Goodfellow officiated, with Rev. F. C. Capozzi assisting.

Miss Joanne Mackintosh, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. Patrick Guerro, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Reno Segazzi and Alfred Daily were the ushers. Music was provided by Dennis Harris, soloist, and Mrs. Capozzi, organist.

The bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. Lace edged the top of the illusion neckline. The long pointed lace sleeves were edged in tulle ruffles. The bouffant skirt was pleated in lace that ended in a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a beaded Juliet Cap. She carried a prayer book with white rosebuds and streamers of stephanotis.

The maid-of-honor wore a mist green lace and net gown with matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

A dinner for the bridal party at Ye Saylor's Inn was followed by a reception at the home of the bride. On their return from a trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Guerro will reside at the Broad St. address.

Mrs. Guerro was graduated from Bangor High School and is employed at the office of Julius Kayser and Company. Mr. Guerro was graduated from Pen Argyl High School and served in the U. S. Army. He is now assistant funeral director at the Pullis funeral home, Pen Argyl.

Three Children Are Baptised

Caroline Marie, aged 4, and Catherine Rose, infant, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Biondo, of Phillips St., Stroudsburg, and Esther Veronica, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biondo, of East Stroudsburg, were baptized at the St. Mary of the Mount Catholic Church, Mount Pocono, at 3 p.m. Sunday. Rev. Father Vincent Harty officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. James Strong, of Dunellen, N. J., uncle and aunt of the children, were godparents. A family dinner followed at the Vincent Biondo home.

"IngeNEWity" is the correct spelling, if you're writing about Viola Feltham's talent for putting old things to new use. When she needed a scarf clasp, Viola searched the store until she discovered a silver filigree barette in our notions department. These are made in all lengths, and are as attractive on a bulky square as on a skimpy neckerchief. Also, they come in gold metal and cloisonne. . . . My favorite adornment of the moment is a pair of silver-toned earrings that cost just $1 in our jewelry department. A square of metal dangles from each tiny ear button, and Arthur Widmer monogrammed them with three initials. I don't know why, but everyone thinks that monogrammed articles are much more expensive than is often the case. This is something to consider when one is selecting Christmas gifts. . . . If Peter Wyckoff and Claude Miller were mailing postcards from our Wyckoff Toyland, they'd probably write, "Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here." Before the store opened Saturday, they were racing around like five year olds on Christmas morning, trying everything in sight. "If we don't know how to work these things," Claude explained blissfully, "some four year old is sure to walk up and say 'Here, lemme show ya' right in front of a customer." He was right, of course—but what a wonderful excuse for the noisy research he was doing! . . . Here's a note for the lady whose husband goes hunting but rarely catches anything but a cold—Bring him into our toy department, and show him the new duck-shooting game from France. It has a metal tripod and four birds that whirl around on it at varying heights and speeds. There's a gun too, with suction darts. Everyone in the store has taken turns, but Bud Altman holds the record for getting the bird. Seems there's more skill required in this than one would ever guess—and it's not exactly duck soup to bring home the bacon. . . . If I had a daughter who wore a size 8 to 14 robe, there'd be no question in my mind as to the Christmas gift she'd like best. I'd invest in one of the adorable chais robes newly arrived in Helen Levy's teen age department. These robes are as lovely to look at as those for Mother in Edith Pennington's department—and they have downy, long, puffed sleeves. Chais is an heirloom fabric from great grandmother's day—a "walking on air" bloom that no feminine heart can resist. . . . Also in Helen's department are lounging pajamas of red and white checked ginghams — quilted, if you please—with solid red trousers, and a perky red bow at the collar. CHECKED, did I say? And double checked for chic! . . . In gifts, it's quality that counts. That's why the gifts in a Wyckoff box means so much. You like to receive it — and you're proud to give it. As always, we'll be happy to help you in your selections. Come in today, and let's tackle that list of yours!

HAYNES MOTORS, Stroudsburg

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

East Stroudsburg High made history at Memorial Stadium on Saturday and for slightly more than half of the contest it appeared as if Stroudsburg High was going to pull a Lehigh Valley League surprise at Gordon Giffels field, only to have Northampton come through in the second half to take home the bacon. There is plenty to say about both local schools that battled against the toughest sort of opposition and the foulest kind of weather last weekend. However, since East Stroudsburg won its game we will talk about the Cavaliers today and the Mountaineers tomorrow.

A total of 20 points in the last quarter enabled the purple and white clad mud splattered Cavaliers to come from behind and capture their first favorable verdict over Nazareth in the history of the autumn sport at the N. Courtland St. school. The victory was all the sweeter for the charges of Coach Jack Kist, as it was the first time this season that the Cavaliers were forced to come from behind right off the bat, as the Blue Eagles of Nazareth took advantage of an East Stroudsburg fumble to score in the first period.

However, there was a feeling present at Memorial Stadium, in addition to the wet conditions, that made one feel that East Stroudsburg would win the game despite the number of touchdowns that Nazareth was able to write into the scorebook. The Cavaliers came back to tie the count at 7-all, only to trail 14-7 again when Nazareth intercepted a pass on its own goal line and drove to a touchdown in the second period. However, General Jack Sommers marshaled his forces during the final quarter and the purple and white army put on a real big league scoring spree.

Sommers, George Litts and Dick Mering took turns picking up huge chunks of yardage that resulted in touchdowns while Bill "Bucky" Rogers continued to pump extra points through the uprights with almost monotonous regularity, missing only on the fourth and final attempt, despite weather suited for a third cracked duck. Touchdown runs, good defensive moves and spirit enabled the Cavaliers to break the strangle hold that Nazareth has held on the Kistmen, and before the present head coach on the charges of Coach Ray Stengel.

The final whistle apparently found the Cavaliers slightly stunned or too emotionalized to clearly realize what had happened, as they exchanged comments with the Nazareth players and slowly began walking from the field as a group. However, just as the team reached the end zone, nearest the runway to the school, it dawned on the East Stroudsburg gridders that they had just won the biggest victory in the history of the school, and when the dawn came, the cheering team lifted Kist to their shoulders and marched from the enclosed gridiron in true triumph.

It was fitting that Sommers and Leon Alberts, two great kids who have plugged along in the shadows for a number of years, should play such an important part in East Stroudsburg's first victory in history over Nazareth, Leon, the same kid who was stretched out along the sidelines at the end of the Wilson Borough game with torn neck muscles and a broken nose, racked off tackle for 15 yards and a touchdown in the second quarter. But, from the position this writer had along the sidelines at the rain soaked battle, this play was an also-ran, for Alberts came up with the finest play of his scholastic career, as films of the game and a picture on this page will show, in the first period.

Sommers passed to Dick Transue, blue fingered end, from his own 45 and coupled with a fine run by Transue the play carried to the Nazareth 20. However, the yardage gained might have been a lot less if it hadn't been for a jarring block by the same Alberts that scored the first touchdown. The block was thrown somewhere around the 35-yard line and enabled Transue to go something like 15 yards deeper into Nazareth territory.

It's tough to pin-point the outstanding play by Sommers, but those two "bootleg" maneuvers, the second of which resulted in the tying touchdown, were worth the price of admission. Jack could have made plenty of dough during the depression, as he completely fooled everyone at Memorial Stadium. The entire Eastburg line was brilliant and from end to end deserves the world of credit. However, big John "Juice" Ernst, a college bound tackle, led the shock troops once again and was the fifth man in the Nazareth backfield all afternoon.

"This is wonderful," a statement mumbled by Kist as Mering ran for the final touchdown, summed up the entire East Stroudsburg feeling, as did a remark made in the dressing room by Jack Boushelli, Jack said, "Seven wins in one season, who ever dreamed of such a thing?"

Twenty Points In Final Quarter Decide

East Stroudsburg High exploded for 20 points in the final period at rain soaked Memorial Stadium on Saturday and the late surge carried the Cavaliers to their first victory in history over a rugged Nazareth High foe, by a 27-14 count. The visiting Nazareth machine held a 14-7 edge in the Lehigh-Northampton League struggle going into the final period.

The victory enabled the Cavaliers to keep their mathematical hopes of a tie for the Lehigh-

Northampton League title alive, as Nazareth plays Wilson Borough, undefeated against circuit competition on Thanksgiving Day.

Nazareth earned the first break in the ball game by recovering an East Stroudsburg fumble on the home team's 28-yard line. Two running plays resulted in one-yard gains, but Gregory Ferraro hit Martin Mengel with a pass, the same play that defeated Bangor High recently, and the big end lumbered to the six. Two running plays moved to the four, where Ferraro faded back and hit Dean Rissmiller with a pass in the end zone. Martin Mengel added the extra point and the visiting squad led 7-0.

East Stroudsburg opened its scoring drive late in the first period and continued over the second round, as Leon Alberts ended a 55-yard scoring drive by sprinting off tackle for 15 yards and the touchdown. The big play in the advance was a 35-yard pass play from Jack Sommers to Dick Transue. Bill "Bucky" Rogers added his first of three extra points from placement to tie the score.

The Cavaliers were marching goalward again late in the second round, when Rissmiller intercepted a pass on his own goal line and raced to the Eastburg 49. Nazareth drove to its second touchdown, mixing passes and ground gains, with Rissmiller racing around end from the 10 for the score. Martin Mengel added the extra point to give Nazareth a 14-7 edge at the halfway mark.

The third stanza was quiet, but East Stroudsburg picked up the spark and rolled over the second round, the power of the Konkrete Kids told in the second half, as the black and orange clad contingent pushed one touchdown into paydirt in the third period and another in the fourth.

The third period score came when Dick Reimer returned a Stroudsburg punt 35 yards into the endzone. Reimer, starting his first game for Northampton, sparked the last period scoring drive, but Mishko carried the ball over from the 15. Reimer converted the extra point after the final touchdown, for his only successful boot of the game.

Mountaineers Fail To Keep Halftime Advantage Intact

Two touchdowns in the second half enabled powerful Northampton to down an upset minded Stroudsburg High grid machine here at rain swept, fog bound Gordon Giffels field on Saturday, 19-7, after the home team had reached the halfway mark on the long end of a 7-6 count.

Northampton's victory enabled the Konkrete Kids to tie Whitehall for the Lehigh Valley League championship.

Stroudsburg opened the scoring in the second period, when Karl Weingartner pitched a pass to Captain Al Adelman. The entire play covered 35 yards with Adelman thrilling the small crowd with a brilliant 25-yard sprint after fielding the aerial.

Weingartner added the extra point from placement and the Mountaineers were out in front by a 7-0 tabulation.

Northampton used a reverse-pass play to suck in the Stroudsburg secondary in the final minute of the first half and score from the setbacks into today's contest with hopes high of winning its final two battles and balancing the season's slate at five wins and the same number of setbacks.

Coach Granville "Granny" Evans announced yesterday that George Dally, a tackle; Joe Heard, an end, and Rocco Cinnelli, another tackle, will be missing from the lineup today because of injuries. However, it was pointed out at the same time that Bob LaPenna, an end out most of the season with a damaged knee, would be ready for limited service against Slatington.

Bangor's offensive lineup today will have Joe D'imperio and Lou Casciano at the end positions, while Tom Williams and Don Pulo handle the tackle duties and Joe Yannuzzi and Nick Castellucci operate from the guard slots. Jim Rowlands will be at center.

The offensive backfield will feature George Dalesandro at quarterback; Jack Finelli, left half, and Rodney Miller, returned to a starting role at right half. Ed Murgavero will replace Mike DeVito at fullback.

Slatington and Bangor last played in 1943, with Slatington winning by a 13-6 score.

Packers Upset Giants; Browns, San Francisco Triumph After Tough National League Battles

By Ralph Roden

New York (AP) — Just about everything in the book occurred in the National Football League yesterday as the Cleveland Browns took over the lead in the American Conference while San Francisco and Detroit remained tied for the lead in the National Conference.

Records were broken, rookies dazzled, fumbles figured prominently in a number of games and, of course, there was an upset.

Three records fell as the Browns outlasted the surprising Pittsburgh Steelers, 23-20, before 34,973 fans at Cleveland. The nerve-ringing victory enabled the Browns to break their tie with the New York Giants for the upper hand in the American Conference. The Giants were upset, 17-3, by the improving Green Bay Packers.

Tough Time
San Francisco also had a tough time in beating the Washington Redskins, 23-17. Detroit, dundlocked with the 49ers for the top rung in the National Conference, had it much easier, swamping the homeless Dallas Texans, 43-13. In other games, Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cardinals, 10-7, and the Los Angeles Rams humbled the Chicago Bears, 40-24.

Lou "The Toe" Groza set two marks in helping the Browns edge Pittsburgh. He booted two field goals to run his output to 14, which surpassed the previous league high for a season by one. Groza also kicked three extra points, giving him 22 for the season and a consecutive string of 94, the latter also a record.

Both teams attempted 89 passes, another league record. Otto Graham spearheaded the Browns' passing attack, chucking two touchdown passes and scoring a third. The Steelers, trailing by 22 points at one stage, came to life in the last two periods to make a game of it. Quarterback Jim Finks directed the comeback with four touchdowns.

Fumbles
The Packers capitalized on two fumbles and the running and passing of rookie ace "Babe" Parilli to upset the Giants before 26,723 amazed onlookers at the Polo Grounds.

Parilli scored the first Packer touchdown and passed for the second after fumbles had set up the scoring drives. It marked the first time this year that the Giants have failed to score a touchdown.

The 49ers were on the brink of disaster before 29,997 fans at Washington when rookie sensation, Hugh McElhenny, pumped blood into the team with a 66-yard touchdown romp. Two minutes later the visitors sewed it up.

Two Junior Varsity Grid Games Slated

Two area junior varsity football teams will see action on foreign gridirons today, with each contest scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m.

East Stroudsburg, featuring an undefeated record, will tangle with a Nazareth contingent that has won at least five straight games, on the Nazareth field.

It will be the final game of the season for the Cavaliers who can post a perfect record, if they can turn aside the strong Nazareth threat.

Bangor
Bangor High's yearlings, without a victory thus far this season, journey to Hellertown, to meet the varsity of that school.

Hellertown, in the midst of its first year of football, is playing only junior varsity opposition this season.

Stroudsburg High completed its junior varsity campaign last week, with a 13-6 victory over Slatington. The Mountaineers wound up hostilities with three wins and two setbacks.

Mangrum Wins Ampol

Sydney, Australia (AP) — Lloyd Mangrum; Niles, Ill., fired a 69 to win the Melbourne division of the 72-hole total of 281 on Saturday.

Committee Named To Study TV From Angle Of Small Colleges

Kansas City, Mo. (AP) — A committee to study the television problem from the standpoint of the smaller colleges has been appointed by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Athletic problems of some 365 member institutions of the NAIA were discussed at a three-day conference which ended here Saturday.

The NAIA officials said college administrators predict all but a handful of the smaller schools will finish this football season in the red—because of television.

"Gate receipts," said one athletic director, "won't come close to meeting football expenses. Schools that once supported their entire athletic programs with football profits will finish this season with a deficit."

Stay Home
Highly publicized games on television have caused thousands of fans to stay away from college games in their local areas, they reported.

The officials were optimistic over the outlook for basketball attendance since that sport hasn't been invaded by television to any appreciable extent on the national level. They said attendance at basketball games this year probably will be slightly better than a year ago.

The trend in basketball, said NAIA representatives, is toward shorter seasons.

Gap View Inn set its sights on score last Tuesday when it hit 803 in their first game on high single for Jean Smith of 202. This was topped off with match honors on a score of 2,336 while Jean again was high with 525. This enabled Gap View to walk off with four points and helped the club to retain its lead in the East Stroudsburg Ladies League.

At the Legion on Monday night it was Vince Marek who found the spot for the Jokers. He hit on games of 182-213-207, for the total of 602 and the first 600 match at the Legion alleys this year. While Vince was high and the Jokers won four points, another team, the Commandos, was the team that went consistent as low man hit 462 and high man hit 492 for the high match of 2,423 of the night. Even though the Commandos hit high for the night they lost a point on the last game when they hit 799 as the Sad Sacks were adding up to a game of 862.

Tom Walters hit 512 on Tuesday night for the Bushkill League on games of 178-186-185 to be high for the night. This at the onset doesn't look like much. But then on Friday night, when Tom bowls for Cream-ee Ice Cream, he again came up with the total of 512 and on games of 180-182-167. Compare those scores for the consistency people look for, then remember that Tom had the honor of being the first man to pay his complete entry fee into the tournament for the holiday season.

Wednesday night saw Sobrinsky, of Mountain Cleaners, hit his second consecutive 600 on games of 192-244-200 for the total of 636 and high for the night. The other 600 series in the league for Wednesday night was posted by Kintz of Ray Arnold's on games of 201-198-201 to hit it on the nose. While this was going on a new champion was crowned. "Babe" Miller was on a double as his first ball went sliding down the gutter. Then with a chance to recover, you guessed it. The second ball followed the first one down the narrow path, called the gutter.

In the Record Major, scores went looking for bowlers as Bob Weisenfue was high with a 610, and his closest contender was Harry Walton, who hit for 588. While Bob was hitting for his 610, his teammates left him down as they lost four points to Fehel's Dairy, which had every man over the 500 mark, to reach the total of 2,707 and high for the night.

of several good matches as three of the teams went over the 2,700 mark, while four of the bowlers hit for 600. Jack Darr was high and the only man to have all of his games over the 500 line. On games of 180-216-204 Jack led the way with 671. Following close behind came Jake Nittel with 670, Jim Harmon Sr. with 665 and Al. Anders last with 664. Al. had the distinction of being high and low of the four men to hit 600. His high game was 534 and his low one added up to 163.

Marie Keyes, who warms up the alleys as leadoff for the Stroudsburg Furnace team, finally arrived in the last game after a slow start to hit 201 and be high for the night. Jean Treibler, who manages to work herself into the high spot quite often, was high again as she chalked up 498 to beat Ruth Tarr who was giving her a run with the score of 488.

The Legion Auxiliary had another person in the number one spot this week as Betty Becker was high on single of 177 and triple of 457. Two teams were over the 1,900 mark as the Easy Goers hit 1,950 and the Jolly Jans were ten points behind with a 1,940. As the scores improve it shows that bowling will improve. All of the girls are hitting better and more consistently.

Tuesday night at the Legion saw the leading team take a three to one count from the team of Heeter's Mohikas. After the Rookies won the first game on a one-pin margin, Heeter's took over and had it their own way from there on in. K. Fetherman was high with 539 and his teammate who gave an able assist with 514, was Mike Gretkowski. Melwain was high man for the losers as he hit 516.

Stroudsburg Engine Works still rolls on as it took four points from Shoemaker Signs. P. Shaffer was low with 480 and M. Possinger was high with a 519. Shoemaker's had two men over the 500 as Allen and Fetherman hit 520 and 505, respectively, in a losing game. Fabel's Gulf, which had a slow start in the beginning of the season, is now getting going as three of their men rolled over the 500 mark, namely Greiner, Fabel and Baustein.

E. S. Methodist #1 and Presbyterian, the two teams in the first and second slots of the County Church League, will be meeting this coming Thursday to see which is the better as both are going great at the present time. Both teams took four points during the past week and ESME #1 was high with a 2,384 count.

Crowe's Five Splits With Phillipsburg

Phillipsburg, N. J.—Crowe's Insurance won the first two games of its Delaware Valley League bowling match with the Phillipsburg Elks on Saturday, on the latter's home alleys, to evenly divide the four-point total.

Jake Nittel was the only member of the East Stroudsburg contingent to better the 200 mark on Saturday and the leadoff man turned the trick by three pins in the second game. The final total was the lowest registered by Crowe's this season.

Elis Naubum and Tom Carling were the big guns for the Elks. Crowe's five rolls against Rieger's Recreation, at 8 p.m.

Two Bowls Complete Lineups

By Rip Watson

New York, 27—Michigan State and Georgia Tech, the nation's ranking football powers, can sit back and yell "23 skiddoo" at the rest of the college grid teams.

Michigan State turned back the challenge of fired-up Notre Dame, 21-3, Saturday for its 23rd straight victory while Georgia Tech's 7-3 victory over Alabama gave the Sugar Bowl-bound Engineers 23 games in a row without defeat.

State, ranked number one in the Associated Press poll for virtually the entire season, now must beat Marquette, a four-time loser, for a perfect season's record. Second-ranked Georgia Tech has only weak Florida State and Georgia, an old but outclassed rival, on its slate.

Upset

The most persistent threat of their reign was wiped out when Mississippi outplayed and outscored third-ranked Maryland, 21-14, and jumped into the Sugar Bowl opposite Tech. Ole Miss, unbeaten but twice tied, pushed Maryland all over the field while holding the Terrapins' touted Jack Scarbath to two completions. Sugar Bowl officials needed only three hours to tender the invitation.

The Cotton Bowl also completed its January 1 lineup as Texas scored twice in the last quarter for a 14-7 victory over Texas Christian and the Southwest Conference championship. Texas, number nine in the poll, was spurred by sophomore Bill Quinn for the second straight week.

The Longhorns will meet seventh-ranked Tennessee, which was picked Friday and made the selectors happy the next day by flattening Florida, 26-12.

There is a permanent letter game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Warriors Win To End Unbeaten Soccer Season

East Orange, N.J.—East Stroudsburg State Teachers rolled over Panzer College in a soccer game here at mud spattered Sovereign field, 6-0, on Saturday, to complete its first undefeated season since 1946 and the fourth in ESSTC history. The Warriors were also undefeated in 1931 and 1944, with present coach, Howard DeNike, at the helm of each squad.

Zimmerman Named To Second All-Philadelphia Hockey Club

Swarthmore, Pa.—Mary Jane Zimmerman, goalie for the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College field hockey team, a contingent that didn't lose a game this season, was named to the second All-Philadelphia Sectional Team at the Philadelphia Sectional Field Hockey tournament held here Friday, Saturday and yesterday.

Helen O. Mankin, an authority on women's athletics in Philadelphia wrote of the first game in which Zimmerman appeared:

"The All-Philadelphia second team has speed, and most of the players are experienced. They had chances to score in the first period but Mary Zimmerman, All-College first goalie, a senior at East Stroudsburg, was too good for them."

Mary was one of the best players on the field. She "saved" at least a dozen potential goals. It was not until after the game was over that Mary revealed that she had pulled a thigh muscle in practice several days ago. Mrs. Anne (Jackie) Westervelt, captain, tallied for the victors in the opening period.

According to Katherine Griffith, field hockey coach at ESSTC, no other ESSTC selections were announced for National recognition yesterday.

Zimmerman played with the first All-College team, while Nancy Noll, Ethel Moyer and Margorie Morrell, all of ESSTC, played on the third team, while Grace Asberry and Beatrice McLaughlin, also of ESSTC, also took part in the tournament.

Zimmerman will take part in the National Field Hockey tournament to be played at Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Va., on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Late Spurt Fails Visiting Grid Crew

Ed "Right Foot" Oliver's place kicking accuracy enabled East Stroudsburg to take the measure of Arnold College on a water logged Normal Hill field on Saturday, by a narrow 14-13 count. The win enabled the charges of Coach Gene Martin to complete the 1952 campaign with four wins and the same number of setbacks.

ESSTC held the upper hand through the first three periods.

Booters List Co-Captains

Co-captains were elected by the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College soccer squad on Saturday. It was announced last night by Coach Howard DeNike. The election took place on the bus enroute to East Orange, N. J., where the Warriors completed an undefeated season by blasting Panzer College, 6-0.

Joe Maiorillo, Bethlehem, and Tom Roberts, Catawissa, were named co-captains of the 1952 ESSTC booters, by the vote of their teammates.

Seniors

Both of the co-captains are seniors, five of which played their final game of the season with the Warriors on Saturday.

Coach DeNike is scheduled to be guest speaker at Fredericksburg, Pa. today, at 7 p. m., where the Lions Club of that locality will honor its high school soccer team, which won its league championship and two district titles.

Fredericksburg's soccer squad is coached by Joe Jandrositz, a graduate of ESSTC last year.

Seniors

Only four major colleges—Georgia Tech, with nine triumphs, and Michigan State, Southern California and UCLA with eight each—are on the list. At least one will go Saturday, when UCLA plays Southern California.

Rochester has ended an 8-game season with 217 points against 28 for its opponents.

Clarion (Pa.) Teachers scored 178 to 24 for opponents in 8 games.

In seven games Shippensburg (Pa.) Teachers had 266 to 20 for opponents: Franklin and Marshall, 218 to 117; West Chester (Pa.) Teachers 291 to 32.

21 Colleges Still Unbeaten

New York, 27—Twenty-one college football teams around the country are unbeaten and untied today with the season rushing to a climax.

Maryland fell by the wayside Saturday, bowing to Mississippi, 21-14.

Ten of the teams have completed their seasons.

Seniors

Only four major colleges—Georgia Tech, with nine triumphs, and Michigan State, Southern California and UCLA with eight each—are on the list. At least one will go Saturday, when UCLA plays Southern California.

Rochester has ended an 8-game season with 217 points against 28 for its opponents.

Clarion (Pa.) Teachers scored 178 to 24 for opponents in 8 games.

In seven games Shippensburg (Pa.) Teachers had 266 to 20 for opponents: Franklin and Marshall, 218 to 117; West Chester (Pa.) Teachers 291 to 32.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Exciting, unusual activities high in favor. Matters pertaining to business, domestic life and government interests touch.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Promising period for your talents and like. But be reasonable! Dealing in foods, etc., all matters of the home especially honored.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Unusual scope for your artistic talents (things you produce) original. Be steady however; jerkiness can defeat your purpose.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Ideal configurations with your planet, the Moon, in the forefront. Personal and business interests, money, employment can make fresh strides.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Gains through smart management and cleverly planned programs; benefit day. Though you may go out on that proverbial limb, keep common sense as a balancer.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Decorative, artistic, fashionable writers, food specialists among top receivers now. Home makers, secretaries, dietitians can advance. Good period.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Marriage interests, sea travel, humor the soul's friends. All romantic matters under stimulating Neptune rays. YOU can make fresh gains now.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Opportune, stimulating period but you must judge carefully, with eye to the future. How you handle affairs counts. Study, investigations, new experiments, sponsored.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Don't say day on which no good work or deeds can be accomplished. First, we must look at it carefully. Appreciate little things, and have faith.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn)—Get help with matters if that will facilitate a success for all. But do things yourself where you should, and where your talents can best be displayed.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius)—With this start of the new week, give yourself a pep talk. Build your strength of purpose; add a bit of originality where it may help. Don't say, "I can't."

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces)—You have more ability than you give yourself credit for having. Then why not get better seeing to it that small assets are built upon and big ones are rightly used? NEW!

YOH HOON TODAY, Are composed of many parts—like a complex, but highly efficient machine, except that you have that quality which man alone is blessed with—Soul. Herein lies the conscious, character, force and humor the soul's friends. Do not give in to lusty words, abruptness, hope and fear to the hellebore. Birthdays of many famous thinkers, military leaders, writers, etc., etc., historians of Greece.

VA Warns Of Loss Of NSLI

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—More than $10 billion in lapsed GI term life insurance will be lost forever under present laws unless the 1,200,000 veterans who have permitted their policies to lapse reinstate them before the terms expire during the next fourteen months.

The Veterans Administration, according to Major James K. Davis, Senior Unit Instructor of the Army Organized Reserve Corps unit at Wilkes-Barre, said the policies involved are lapsed term National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) that were issued to two groups of World War II and post-World War II veterans. The groups are:

1. The more than one million World War II veterans who took out term NSLI policies while they were in service during the last two months of 1944 and all of 1945; and,

2. The 100,000 veterans who took out the term NSLI policies while they were in service during the last two months of 1947 and all of 1948.

The first group have 8-year policies and the second 5-year term policies. Both terms expire sometime during the last two months of this year or during next year.

If veterans in either group do not wish to lose this coverage altogether, they must reinstate their policies before the terms expire. Otherwise, they will not be eligible for further GI life insurance coverage.

Reinstatement may be accomplished by applying to the Veterans Administration District Office, P. O. Box 8079, Philadelphia 1, Pennsylvania.

Major Davis urged holders of NSLI to take advantage of the low cost government protection and not lose their benefits.

Deadline Is Set For Navy Training Work

The Navy has announced that November 22, 1952, is the deadline date for receipt of applications for its college training program, the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps.

Competitive examinations, the seventh since the programs beginning, will be held on December 13, 1952, at test centers established throughout the nation, the Navy said. Only those who have submitted their applications prior to the deadline date will be allowed to take the exam.

About 2,000 students will be selected for entry into the NROTC Program this year. Successful candidates will be appointed Midshipmen, USNR, and will have their tuition, books and normal fees paid for by the government while working for bachelor degrees. In addition, they will receive pay at the rate of $600 a year for the four-year period and will be provided the required uniforms for use while on cruises and during drill periods.

The Navy has NROTC units at 52 universities and colleges throughout the U. S. Those selected for the program will be assigned to one of these units.

Applications may be obtained at high schools, colleges, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement, and Navy Recruiting Stations throughout the country. Completed applications must be sent to the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey.

The Office of Naval Officer Procurement and the Navy Recruiting Station in the Philadelphia area is located at 13 South 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Kunkletown Fire Company Collects $300

Kunkletown — The Volunteer Fire Co. met recently at Pearson's Hall with Herbert Pearson Jr. presiding and 34 members in attendance.

Visitors from Palmerton and Slatington were also present. The collecting and membership committees reported a total of 90 new members and over $300 in donations for the period.

Following the reports, the meeting was turned over to George Semmel, fire chief and instructor from the West End Palmerton Fire Co. who stressed the meaning of an efficient Volunteer Fire Co. and the necessity for laying a good foundation against disaster in the form of adequate fire protection.

Semmel urged all the firefighters to gain a good knowledge of the causes and effects of fire. He described the usefulness and comparative values of various types of fire extinguishers currently being offered on the market.

Joseph Herman of the Slatington Fire Co. spoke on the new pump which the Kunkletown Fire Co. has purchased from his organization.

The next meeting of the fire company will be held Thursday, Nov. 20 at Pearson's Hall at 8 p. m.
